Jeremiah Ra Richard's musical alter ego, MRPNK, has gone through many transformations during his decade plus djing. One thing has always remained the same, it's always been about the music. Preferring long sets in which he can create an arc, MRPNK is just as comfortable starting early with downtempo vibes working towards deeper sounds as he is playing bouncy club music, setting the mood and moving the dance floor.

MRPNK simply loves a proper party. From New York to Denver, Santa Fe to San Francisco, by way of Miami and Berlin, and his hometown of Los Angeles, MRPNK has played a variety of clubs and private events, learning and refining the dynamics of his dj sets along the way.

Influences include Bjork, Coco Rosie, Kruder & Dorfmeister, Telepopmusik, Little Dragon, Nina Simone, Dixon, Gui Boratto, Loco Dice, Luciano, Villalobos, Terry Francis, Craig Richards, Cassy, Maya Jane Coles, The Timewriter, Lee Burridge, Laurent Garnier, and Fran K.

MRPNK has hosted and played along side Behrouz, The Low End Specialists, Steve Lawler, Audio Werner, and Jody Wisternoff.
